

Bordetella Vaccine

Limerick Veterinary Hospital and its medical staff require all dogs entering our lodging facility to have a Bordetella vaccine every 6 months. Limerick Veterinary Hospital will assume no responsibility for any canine not vaccinated for Bordetella within the past 6 months who develops kennel cough after his/her stay. Limerick Veterinary Hospital may refuse admittance of your unvaccinated dog or charge a higher lodging fee to separate and house your dog away from the main facility and canine populous.

If your dog needs a Bordetella upon arrival it will be given at your expense.

Those Happy Tails clients who are not medical clients of Limerick Veterinary Hospital may get their vaccines elsewhere. Limerick Veterinary Hospital will only recognize their own policies on Bordetella and not those of other hospitals.

Vaccination of your dog protects other dogs from the virus and also protects your dog from other potential carriers.
